

CM5310 - Fall 2004

Contents of CD-ROM

When the disk is first inserted into the disk drive, it will automatically execute the first program on the disk (NIOSH pocket Guide). If you are interested in other materials on the disk, exit out of the program and then use the Windows Explorer to view the file names on the disk.

1. NIOSH Pocket Guide, August 2001 edition.
This includes the following resources:
 - Immediately Dangerous to Life and Health Concentrations
 - International Chemical Safety Cards
 - NIOSH Manual of Analytical Methods
 - NIOSH Pocket Guide to Chemical Hazards
 - OSHA Sampling and Analytical Methods
 - Recommendations for Chemical Protective Clothing
 - Specific Medical Tests Published for OSHA Regulated Substances
 - Toxicological Review of Selected Chemicals
 - 2000 Emergency Response Guidebook

There are two sub-directories on this disk:

- A. NOAA Chemical Reactivity Worksheet. This contains the following:

Chemical Reactivity Worksheet, Version 1.5 react95.exe
A program to flag dangerous chemical interactions.

- B. Other Goodies. This contains a variety of miscellaneous stuff, including:

1. Chemical Inventory Program, Version 1.0
Chemical Inventory.exe
This is a useful program for maintaining a small chemical inventory and printing labels.
2. Chemical Compatibility Spreadsheet
chemcomp.xls
An Excel spreadsheet with useful chemical compatibility information.
3. Chemical Engineering Safety Manual, September 2004
Safety Manual 2004.pdf
Current version of departmental safety manual, in Adobe pdf format.
4. Lab Safety Inspection Form, November 2004.
Lab Inspection Form 2005.doc
A Word file containing a checklist inspection form.

(over)

5. Job Safety Assessment Form, August 2004
JobSafetyAssessment.doc
A Word file containing a JSA template.
6. Label files for Word and CorelDraw
Labels.doc and Labels.cdr
Files to produce labels on Avery 5196 labels.
7. Michigan Lab Safety Standard
Michigan Lab Safety Standard.pdf
This is the complete text to the Michigan Lab Safety Standard.
8. Chemical Engineering Department Hazardous Waste Disposal Guide, November, 2003.
HazWasteMan2003.pdf
Complete text to the department hazardous waste disposal manual.